ABOUT OUR WORKSHOP

Want to take a step further in your soil journey? Nicole Brouwer and John Montague from The Glen Road Organics are teaming up with Colleen Dempster from ReWild EcoSystem Services to bring you a workshop where you will learn the basics of microscopy like preparing a slide and proper sample dilutions. From there you will learn how to identify the microorganisms essential to the Soil Food Web. From this workshop you will have the skills to assess your own compost and soil to track your soil health.
